Lives and works in Folkestone, UK

"Figures have been depicted through art from the beginning of humankind, for me the desire to create a figure which is unique, is a driving force. Understanding awareness of self and identity and by looking back at my own childhood drawings, seeing how I drew with freedom and no constraints, trying to recapture elements of innocent autonomy. My wish is to create a figure who is unique, "my own" to conjure an icon which I consider to be mine."
